DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2, 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Tyler.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tyler in view of Jorna et al. Jorna shows that curved cutting surfaces are a desirable feature. One of ordinary skill in the art would be aware of this design and obviously add it to the device of Tyler to improve the cutting.

Claims 5, 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tyler in view of Bruecker. Bruecker shows angled sides for the blades with a demarcating groove. One of ordinary skill in the art would have added this feature to the shaver of Tyler as and for the purpose of Bruecker.

Claims 6 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tyler in view of Uchiyama et al. Uchiyama shows the use of a demarcating groove in the outer blade. This offers the advantage of guiding the inner blade and allowing the skin to flex around the outer blade for improved shaving. Obviously an artisan would add same to the device of Tyler to improve the shave and guiding characteristics of the blades.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 7-9, 12-13 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
